

Are Your Employees Struggling with Money?

(how to know & how to help)

Warning Sign #1

What are your employees talking about?
What do you hear as a manager?

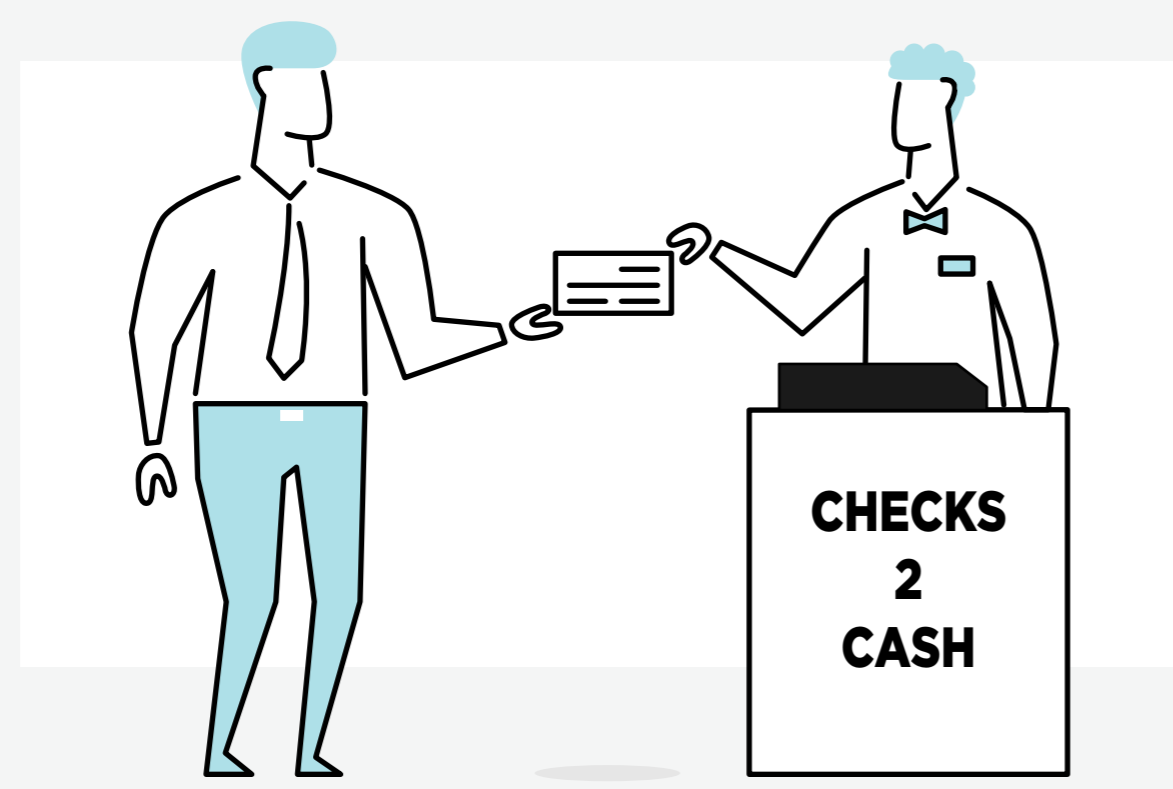

This is your employee's way of indirectly communicating to you that money gets in the way of things

Warning Sign #2

What are your employees doing?
What do you see?

This is your employee's way of solving common money problems - yet many of these options don't help solve the root issue

And when they REALLY need help...

What are they asking you for?

This is your employee's way of asking for help. This is a "trigger moment" where you can step in and help make a lasting impact.

What You Can Do at This Moment:

If this is the financial reality for some of your employees... it could be negatively affecting your culture, your team's morale, and productivity as a whole.

The next time you see your employee struggling, you can either...

SAY...

"Hang in there... I wish there was something I could do..."

HELP THEM...

OR

Make real change. Connect them to our nonprofit.

For over 20 years, we've worked with 50,000+ workers across the U.S. to boost credit scores, eliminate debt and create financial security in their lives.

Learn about our nonprofit organization and how we can help your employees.